

A little inspiration...

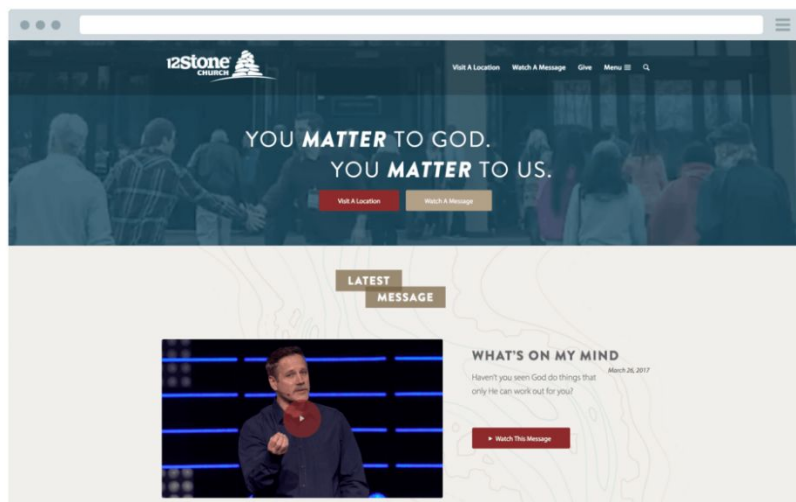

You talked about how you're known for your eclectic gathering of people. Not only does the headline talk about the people, but the picture has an assortment as well.

Along the lines of our RIC conversation, you were happy with the idea that your church is a safe place for all. Notice the imagery on this website includes the worship space and the togetherness of the congregation.

Again, we want to focus on how inviting and friendly Grace Lutheran in Upland is. You also want to see new faces in your Sunday service. This headline is especially powerful because the image fits it so well--complete with empty seats.

As we've mentioned, most churches don't talk enough about the thing that they are meant to be experts on, i.e. God. This image is powerful because it shows people joining together by joining hands.
